lyns lost a game to the Chicagos and dropped ehind the Philadelphias, who covered Tebeau's Indians with a coat of whitewash. The Louisvilles were pic for the champion Baltimores and the Washingtons beat the Pittaburgs, there-by scoring their fourth straight victory since the retirement of their former manager, Gus Schmelz. NEW YORK, 9; ST. LOUIS, 2. his first appearance in a St. Louis uniform at the Polo Grounds resterday, and was batted freely. Although no fielding errors are charged against the visitors, there were many balls sent outside the dismond which fast fielders would have eaten up. The New Yorks, on the other hand, worked diligently behind Meekin, who was in splendid fettle. Davis showed an improvement in his work at abort, and Warner caught a star game, besides rapping out a beautiful home run. Holmes, in spite of the blinding sun, made three star catches. Van Haltren distinguished himself by cracking out four hits, three of which were two-buggers. Murphy, Cross, and Halman carried off the honors for the Missouritesm, the last-named player putting up one of his old-time games. Lynch and O'Day umpired faultlessly, and the 5,000 spectators enjoyed their work and the New Yorkers' victory immensely. Although no nelding errors are charged their work and the New Yorkers' victory immensely.

After the visitors had been abut out in the first, New York made a run. Yan Haltren took two bases on a safe, short fly to right and ran to third on another scratch fly from Tiernan's bat. Joyce filled the bases with four bulls and Davis tapped one to Carsey, who threw Van out at the plate. Gleason forced Davis, Tiernan scoring, and Warner filed to Turner.

In the second, St. Louis had two men on bases with nobody out, but three successive pop flies left the runners. Clark began the last half with a base on balls, and Holmes struck out on three foul bunts. Meekin forced Clark and Van popped an easy one for Hariman.

With two out in the third, Hallman made the first safe hit off Meekin and Davis missed a chance to force him by fumbling Lally's grounder. A passed ball advanced both men, but Hartman flied to reliable Tiernan. Carsey had the locals right where he wanted them and they were blanked in spite of Davis's base on balls.

Cross hit, for two bases after two men had had the locals right where he wanted them and they were blanked in spite of Davis's base on balls.

Cross hit for two bases after two men had been retired in the fourth, but Van Haltren pulled in Murphy's high liner. In the last half the New Yorks made two runs, singles by Holmes and Meekin, a steal by the latter, and Van Haltren's scratch double doing the business. Warner and Clark made-lucky hits after two were out in the fifth and were left.

The New Yorks did some good batting in the sixth, and added three runs to their string. Meekin began the fun with a single, and Van Haltren cracked out his third two-bagker. The nan brought both in with a sharp base hit to right and reached second on the throw-in. Jovce put him on third with a hit, and Davis's single sent him across the plate. Gleason forced Davis, and Joyce was caught at the plate on Gleason's steal after Warner had fouled out.

The visitors managed to score their first run in the seventh. Cross opened with a hit and stole second. He ran all the way to the plate on Gleason's wild throw of Murphy's grounder, the latter landing on second. Carsey hit to Joyce, who caught Murphy, and Turner singled. Hallman filed to Tiernan and Turner was forced. The New Yorks got another run in the last half on singles by Clark, Holmes, and Van Haltren.

In the last half of the eighth, with Davis on second, Warner made a corking home run drive into the right field seats and increased New Yorks total to nine. The visitors got their last run in the ninth on Carsey's two bagger, an out, and Hallman's single. The score:

There was more stupid playing in two hours at Eastern Park yesterday than in all of the League games played across the bridge this season. The game was exciting enough to please the 7.156 spectators, but there was many an angry rooter when the proceedings came to a close with the Chicagos a winner by one run. Anson's players held a lead of five runs when the home players took their eighth turn at the bat. Jones, the first man at the plate, drew four bells, and he raced around to third on Anderson's two-bagger, the ball just escaping Anson's translation of the state of the sum of the state of the sum of the state of the sum of the su

PRINCETON, June 12.-The second game of the Yale-Princeton series was won by the latter at Princeton Field this afternoon, after a contest Princeton's batters managed to find the bai

"Old Ell's" downfall. Never before has Princeton Field had such a select assemblage, and never before has such enthusiasm been shown. The crowd was composed mostly of Princeton alumni, who are back to visit their alma mater, with their wives and daughters. The classes of '97, '87, and '77 marched to the grounds in a body, headed by a brass band. Throughout the entire game the yells of the "rooters" from both uni-versities were shouted across the diamond, and Umpire Campbell was compelled to improvise a code of signals in order to make his decisions known to the players. Princeton's team was weakened by the absence of Hillebrand from known to the players. Princeton's team was weakened by the absence of Hillebrand from third base, who is ill in the infirmary. Capt. Wilson played in his place.

Promptly at 3 o'clock the game was called and the Tigers jumped in with a rush. Bradley was sent to first on balls, and Baston sent him around to third with a preity two-bagger down the foul line. Kafer singled, and both men crossed the plate. Kelley drew his base, but Kafer was caught trying to steal third. Smith got to first on balls, Aliman sacrificed, and Butler's hit scored two more runs. Wilson went out from Hamilin to Letton. Princeton scored again in the third on Smith's base on balls and Butler's single.

In the fourth inning the Tigers solved Hamlin's curves to the extent of two singles, a two-bagger, a three-base hit, and a home run. These hits, with two bases on balls, netted five runs. After the fusillade was over and the dust had cleared away Hamilin was sent to the bench and Feary took his place. The latter pitched excellent ball up to the ninth inning, when he sent three men to bases on balls, and Smith found him for the longest hit ever made on Princeton Field. The ball sailed over the running track on to the football field, and Keator did not rouble himself to chase it. "Lady" Jayne pitched winning ball for seven innings. Then he weekened badly and was retired to the bench at his own request.

The Yale players worked hard to win, all the time, but the tactics they used at times were questionable, to say the least. They scored twice in the second inning on singles by Finke, Hazen, and Keator, and sacrifice hits by Camp and Goodwin. Two bases on balls in the seventh inning, combined with Keator's pretty single, gave another run to them. "Ellis" sons did not tally again until the seventh inning, when a single, and Finke rupped out another three-base hit over Bradley's head. With this Jayne retired in favor of Altman. No more runs were made until the eighth inning, when a single, a three-basger, and two bases on balls counted three runs f

Victor nickel and enamel cover nothing that we are ashamed to have the public see.

This means extra expense—thousands of dollars of it. It means the maintenance of a large corps of experts who are paid to do nothing but inspect every minute part of the bicycle as it is turned out.

It means that the different parts of each VICTOR BICYCLE must pass more than 2,300 gauge inspections before the machine is assembled.
It means that we are giving you the very best possible value for your money when you pay $100 for a VICTOR.
Don't expose yourself to the countless risks of a tin-shop bicycle.

IF YOU WILL RIDE A VICTOR YOU WILL KNOW WHY THEY COST $100.

met yesterday afternoon on the Crescent's Bay Ridge grounds and played a game of lacrosse before Ridge grounds and played a game of lacrosse before a large and enthustastic attendance. The contest was all one sided, however, as the Crescents sourced sieven times and the visitors issled entirely. Two thirty-dev minute naives were played in a still brease. In itse first haif the Crescents made four goals. The playing was confined almost exclusively to the ground within fifty yards of the visitors' goal. The second half was a repetition of the first, save that the Crescents made seven goals. THE ONLY AUTOMATIC WICK LOCK
